CLUB NEWSLETTER
March/April 2024

Club News

By Anthony Lambert, General Manager

Communication is the cornerstone of a thriving community, and at our esteemed Country Club, it plays a pivotal role in ensuring that our approximately 8,000 members stay engaged and informed about the plethora of amenities, activities, events, dining experiences, theme nights, and more, that we offer.

The Connections newsletter is a primary communication tool, offering a comprehensive bi-monthly guide to Club offerings, from highlighting events to featuring member achievements. The newsletter serves as a window into this vibrant community.

Our daily emails provide information on upcoming events to ensure that members are kept in the loop, fostering a sense of inclusivity.

Embracing technology further, our Country Club provides a user-friendly phone app that brings the Club to the palm of your hand. Members can effortlessly access event calendars and receive text notifications for important updates, providing a convenient way to stay engaged with the Club's offerings.

Member surveys play a dual role, providing valuable feedback to enhance the member experience and offering a platform for members to voice opinions and preferences, crucial for tailoring services. This two-way dialogue is critical in tailoring our services to meet the evolving needs of our diverse membership.

Kiosks and bulletin boards around the Club serve as physical information hubs, showcasing upcoming events and reinforcing our community spirit.

Beyond these key channels, we also leverage Facebook and Instagram social media platforms to connect with members, providing snapshots of the Club's dynamic atmosphere and fostering a virtual sense of community.

In conclusion, effective communication is the lifeblood of our Country Club. It not only keeps members informed but also fosters a sense of belonging and active participation. Through the newsletter, daily emails, phone app, surveys, bulletin boards, and more, we strive to create an environment where members are not just participants but integral contributors to our Club and community's collective health and happiness.

Club Life

By Lisa Malone-Carmain, Club Marketing Director

In today's fast-paced world, staying connected and informed is essential. At Citrus Hills, we strive to make it easy for our valued members to stay up-to-date on all the latest events, dining options, and important announcements. Whether you're accessing information from your computer or on the go with our mobile app, we've got you covered!

If you've ever received an email from us without pictures, don't worry – it's likely due to your computer's security settings being marked as high. But you can easily view the images by clicking the link provided at the top of the email or by right-clicking your mouse to download them. We want to ensure you don't miss out on anything we have to offer.

Speaking of staying informed, have you checked out our Club's mobile app and website lately? They are seamlessly connected and updated several times daily to bring you the latest information on events, entertainers, menus, etc. Whether looking for a fun night out or planning your next gathering, our app and website are your go-to sources for everything Citrus Hills.

When it comes to dining, our restaurant hours are always available on both platforms, conveniently located at the bottom of the calendars, which are emailed out at the end of every month and available for you to pick up at the Activity Center, Grille, and Skyview restaurants. No need to wonder about any of our operating hours – the information you need is right at your fingertips.

Finally, we encourage you to reach out to the manager of any specific area with questions, suggestions, or ideas. Their contact information can be found in the directory below. Your feedback is invaluable to us; you don't have to wait for a survey to tell us what's on your mind!

At Citrus Hills, we're committed to keeping you connected, informed, and satisfied. So whether you're browsing our website, using our mobile app, or reaching out to our managers, know that we're here to serve you and enhance your experience every step of the way. Stay connected and informed, and let's make every moment at Citrus Hills unforgettable!

Social Events & Entertainment

By Emily Will, Activities Director

Being part of a country club is not just about access to amenities; it is an invitation to a vibrant and social community. As we begin to see more and more new members join Citrus Hills, they are greeted not just with a membership card but with many opportunities to forge connections and create lasting memories.

Our Club offers a dynamic array of events tailored to bring people together. From lively social mixers to musical concerts, educational seminars, dinner shows, and dances – there is a niche for every interest. These gatherings serve as perfect opportunities for developing friendships and networking with like-minded individuals who share a passion for community engagement.

Musical concerts add rhythm to our social calendar, fostering an environment where laughter and shared experiences create strong bonds. Educational seminars provide not just knowledge but a forum for intellectual exchange and camaraderie. Dinner shows and dances blend elegance with entertainment, offering an ideal platform to socialize and unwind.

These events remind us that our Club is not just a place for leisure; it is a hub for building relationships and expanding horizons.

To all new members, we extend a warm welcome and an invitation to embrace these social opportunities fully. The events are not just activities but gateways to a dynamic community waiting to welcome you with open arms. We encourage our current members to welcome and engage our newcomers and show them what a wonderful community we all live in. Dive in, participate, and discover the magic of connections within our Club's engaging tapestry of events.

Bella Vita Fitness & Spa

By Lee Thompson, Director of Spa & Fitness

With our growing membership, BellaVita Fitness has been bustling with activity! A friendly reminder: we've got extra parking space conveniently located on the lower right side. Plus, for your comfort and convenience, there is an additional stretching area available in Studio B.

Optimal heart health is a cornerstone of overall well-being, and one effective way to promote it is through regular exercise, particularly at the gym. Combining the following practices, you can significantly improve your heart health and reduce the risk of cardiovascular diseases.

Engage in aerobic activities such as running on the treadmill, cycling, swimming laps, or using the elliptical machine. Aim for at least 150 minutes of moderate-intensity aerobic exercise per week or 75 minutes of vigorous-intensity exercise to strengthen your heart and improve its efficiency. Incorporate high-intensity interval training (HIIT) into your workouts. This involves alternating short bursts of intense exercise with periods of rest or lower-intensity activity. Pay attention to your heart rate during exercise to ensure you're working at an appropriate intensity level. Aim to reach a target heart rate zone based on your age and fitness level, but always listen to your body and adjust the intensity as needed. (220 – Age = Max BPM) Combine strength and cardiovascular exercises into a circuit format. This involves moving quickly from one exercise to the next with minimal rest in between. Circuit training provides both aerobic and anaerobic benefits. Don't overlook the importance of strength training for heart health. Incorporate exercises that target major muscle groups, such as squats, lunges, deadlifts, and chest presses. Building muscle can improve metabolism, blood sugar control, and overall cardiovascular health. Always conclude your workouts with a proper cooldown and stretching routine, helping lower your heart rate gradually.

At BellaVita and PrimoVita, we have all the tools needed to incorporate these activities into your gym routine to optimize your heart health. Always consult with a healthcare professional before starting any new exercise program, especially if you have existing heart conditions or health concerns.

Tennis Talk

By Bruce Payne, Director of Tennis

We are thrilled to announce the date for our next tennis social at Skyview Tennis Center. It is Sunday, April 7th at 1pm. There will be two hours of mixed doubles round-robin tennis followed by reservations at the Tiki Bar for those who wish to keep the party going. Registration for the social should include the name of your partner and whether you intend to eat with the rest of the gang after tennis. If you wish to attend but don't have a regular partner, we will keep a list of singles to pair up with the week before the event. House guests are allowed to join us at the Tiki Bar but must be registered ahead of time. The deadline to register is Tuesday, April 2.

New LED light panels have been ordered for the exterior poles at Skyview to match the ones installed on our new interior poles recently. Evening tennis will be brighter than ever, and we will offer Club-sponsored activities when the project is complete.

As our first set of USTA Leagues for 2024 winds down, the second batch prepares for take-off. Men's and women's 40-and-Over Adult Leagues will start early in April. Those matches consist of three doubles and one singles match per contest. Later in April, it's 55-and-Over Mixed Doubles. If you are new to the Club and wish to participate, I will happily pass your name along to our captains. If you would like to captain a team, I will gladly help you recruit players to fill out your roster. League tennis can be quite competitive and not for everyone, but we are happy to offer league opportunities for those who wish to dive in.

Moreover, a greater number of participants contributes to a more vibrant social environment, promoting camaraderie and networking among players. Overall, heightened participation enriches the golfing experience for all involved. Kindly refer to the enclosed calendars for tournament dates.

Our golf course superintendents,

David Hoggard and John Rustek, along with their dedicated crews, work tirelessly to ensure our courses remain in peak condition. You can greatly contribute to their efforts by responsibly filling divots, promptly fixing ball marks, and keeping your cart on the designated cart paths. Additionally, kindly encourage your playing partners to follow suit. The influence of peer pressure can be a powerful motivator in achieving our shared goal of creating excellent playing conditions for everyone.

Oaks & Meadows: Todd's Tips

By Todd Bleidner, PGA, Head Golf Professional

The significance of mastering short putts cannot be overstated, considering how making or missing them can affect your overall score. Golfers encounter numerous opportunities within this range, and converting these putts can significantly impact the final score. Furthermore, short putts are essential for capitalizing on well-executed approach shots, ensuring that the player maximizes the benefit of getting close to the hole.

Improving short-putting requires a combination of mental and technical aspects. Firstly, maintaining focus and confidence is vital. Golfers need to approach short putts with a positive mindset, visualizing successful strokes and trusting their abilities.

Technically, refining the putting stroke is crucial. A consistent, controlled pendulum-like motion helps maintain accuracy on short putts. Practicing with a specific focus on alignment and maintaining a steady tempo can enhance precision. Developing a routine for short putts, including a reliable pre-shot routine, helps build consistency and confidence under pressure.

Incorporating these mental and technical aspects into practice sessions is essential for honing short-putting skills. By emphasizing the significance of short putts and dedicating focused practice time, golfers can enhance their overall performance and become more effective on the greens.

Overall, the majority of strokes taken in golf occur on the putting green, and nothing contributes more to inflating your score than the act of 3-putting. In my next installment of Todd's Tips, I will delve into techniques to ensure that your second putts are consistently shorter. This involves an effective approach to putting from greater distances, commonly known as lag putting.

Retail and Pro Shops

By Stephanie Rodney, Retail Buyer

Introducing ASICS Golf Shoes at the Citrus Hills Pro Shop this spring! These shoes are crafted to elevate the game of golfers at any skill level, featuring cutting-edge ASICS technology to ensure stability and comfort throughout each swing. Equipped with rubber outsoles to prevent marks on the greens and GEL® technology for optimal comfort, ASICS Golf Shoes are designed to enhance your performance on the course.

There are three key benefits to wearing golf shoes over regular tennis shoes while playing golf:

1. Improved Stability: Specialized features like spikes or traction patterns on the outsole provide superior grip and stability on various terrains, helping golfers maintain balance during their swing and enhancing overall performance.

2. Enhanced Support: Golf shoes offer additional support features such as cushioned midsoles and arch support, reducing fatigue and preventing foot discomfort during extended rounds or practice sessions. This support also promotes proper foot alignment, reducing the risk of injuries.

3. Water Resistance: Many golf shoes are constructed with water-resistant materials, keeping feet dry and comfortable in dewy or rainy conditions common on golf courses. This feature enhances comfort while maintaining traction and stability, preventing slippage on wet grass or terrain.

In addition to ASICS, ECCO golf shoes are another excellent option for both men and women. ECCO golf shoes are engineered for style, performance, and comfort and are meticulously designed to keep you at the top of your game. Join us on March 29th for an ECCO Trunk Show event at the Skyview Pro Shop from 10am to 2pm. See you there!

Neighborhood News

By Cyle Moses, General Counsel

Today, I'd like to provide important development updates and reminders that ensure our neighborhood remains a safe, enjoyable place for everyone.

Firstly, a reminder about our entrance gates. We've noticed an increase in instances where the gates are not being allowed to fully cycle before entering. It's crucial for the safety and efficiency of our gate system that each vehicle waits for the gate to fully open and close before proceeding. Tailgating or entering the gate behind another car without allowing it to reset can lead to the gate arm coming down on your vehicle. Our gates are sophisticated, computer-operated systems designed for one car at a time, and following this simple rule ensures smooth operation and access for all.

On a brighter note, the commencement of development on the approximate 11 acres adjacent to Skyview's Clubhouse. Many (if not all) of you have noticed the trees being cleared, which marks the beginning of our preparation for civil work, paving the way for what will soon be a beautiful community. This development is a testament to our community's growth and our commitment to enhancing the living experience for our current and future residents.

We are enthusiastic about this new chapter and believe these homesites will offer an exquisite addition to our already wonderful community. As always, we are committed to keeping you informed and involved throughout the process.
